Come, God Creator, Holy Ghost

Melody: Komponiert um 1600,
Erfurt 1524, Martin Luther 1529

1. Come, God Creator, Holy Ghost, and vi-sit thou these souls of men; fill them with graces, as thou dost, thy creatures make pure a-gain.
   Bb Eb/Bb Eb/Bb Bb Gm7 Gm7/F Cm7/Eb F Cm7 Dm7 F6 Ebmaj7

2. For Com-mo-ter thy name we call, Sweet gift of God most high a-bove, a ho-ly u-nction to us all, o Fount of life, fire of love.
   8

3. Our minds il-lu-sioned and re-fresh, deep in our hearts let love burn bright; thou know'st the weakness of our flesh and strengthen us with thy might.
   8

4. Thou with thy wondrous sevenfold gifts the fin-ger art of God's right hand, the Father's word thou sen-dest swifit on tongues of fire to each land.
   8

5. Drive far from us our wi-ly foe, grant us thy blessed peace with-in, that in thy foot-steps we may go, and shun the dark ways of sin.
   8

6. Teach us the Fa-ther well to know, like wise his on-ly Son our Lord, thy self to us be-liev-ing show, Spir-it of both, aye a-dored.
   8

7. Praise to the Fa-ther, and the Son who from the dead is risen a-gain; praise to the Com-forter be done, both now and e-ver. A-men.
   8

8. Teach us to know, like wise his on-ly Son our Lord, thy self to us be-liev-ing show, spir-it of both, aye a-dored.
   8

9. Praise to the Son who from the dead is risen a-gain; praise to the Com-forter be done, both now and e-ver. A-men.
   8

10. Praise to the Son who from the dead is risen a-gain; praise to the Com-forter be done, both now and e-ver. A-men.
   8

11. Praise to the Son who from the dead is risen a-gain; praise to the Com-forter be done, both now and e-ver. A-men.
   8

12. Praise to the Son who from the dead is risen a-gain; praise to the Com-forter be done, both now and e-ver. A-men.